Chiropractic Can Stop St. Vitus Dance

It Goes Right At The Cause And Removes It. There is No Chance For The Disease To Lingering.

The workings of Chiropractic are simple, and particularly so in cases of St. Vitus Dance. This malady is a nervous trouble and is caused by the first vertebra of the spinal column being out of line and pressing on the spinal nerves thus causing the twitchings and jerking peculiar to St. Vitus Dance.

Adjustments remove this pressure and with the pressure removed there is no chance for the disease to exist. My Chiropractic Adjustments do remove the cause, St. Vitus Dance. Here's one instance, as follows:

J. N. Imlay, Janesville, Wis.
Dear Sir: I wish to express my gratitude to you for what you have done for my son, Claude, and through your adjustments, is now a strong, healthy boy. At the age of about 10 years, he began to develop a nervous trouble, such as twitching of muscles of face, hands and arms, and in different parts of the body. We consulted several noted physicians, Magnetic Healers and in fact, anyone that thought would help him, but no help came and he gradually grew worse from time to time. The doctor said it was vertigo on St. Vitus Dance, etc. At last we heard of J. N. Imlay, The Chiropractor, Janesville, Wis., and consulted him on the case, and to our great surprise and amazement he gradually grew better under adjustments, and as I said before, he is healthy and strong today. We can't praise Chiropractic enough and we know and believe it is the only thing that will completely restore health to those who are sick. The cause of all disease is removed, and in so doing health is restored, and only a Chiropractor can do it. Thanks to the Science and Art of Chiropractic, for what it is doing.

MR. AND MRS. A. HENDERSON. Isn't that convincing enough? If you are suffering from this dread malady, come and see me at once. Don't wait another day. The longer you put it off the harder it will be to overcome your trouble.

DOVE OF PEACE HAS NO ABIDING PLACE

NEITHER REPUBLICANS OR DEMOCRATS APPEAR ABLE TO GET TOGETHER.

HARMONY IMPOSSIBLE

Man Scramble for Office on Part of Democrats Amusing to Man Up a Tree.

(By Bob Acres.)

N. B.—This is one of a series of articles that are being written exclusively for the Gazette on Wisconsin politics.

Between now and the September primaries there is going to be a general overhauling of all sorts of political crafts and several of the political leaders will find themselves in hard straits unless present indications are all wrong. It takes a pretty wise head to solve the various mysterious moves of the leaders of the warlike Democrats of the two political parties, Republican and Democratic, while the Bull Moose sit back and worry all by themselves as to just what to do. The Republican ranks are hopelessly divided into four distinct divisions. The Democrats are about as equally split up so it is amusing to watch the gyrations of the leaders, the side-stepping of important issues and the attempt to befuddle the average voter with inconsequentialities to hide the real issues.

It looks now as though McGovern and Tom Morris would be the two republican candidates for the United States senatorship at the September primaries with the possibility of "Uncle Ike" entering the latter contest in the campaign. Morris is said to be the La Follette choice for the office and it is known that Governor McGovern favors himself strongly as the only real logical candidate who has the right to the honor of running. I am used when I hear McGovern's friends explain why he should be the candidate and I smile when I hear the same pure La Follette men talk away that Morris and the La Follette plum tree, might grow stronger and yield more delicious fruit for the faithful to pluck.

Not is all smooth sailing in the democratic ranks. John Aylward, a Madison thought he had the right to the chance to run. Had he not been candidate for governor time without number. Had he not dictated the political policies of the Wisconsin Democrats for years and years? Sort of an Old Man of the Sea proposition at that, but still the real boss. Then came Joe Davies. Joe was young. Joe was ambitious. Joe succeeded in landing the state chairmanship from that he graduated into the national committee and from that into Wilson's western campaign manager, and now is commissioner of corporations at Washington, near a cabinet job as he could be given. Aside from that John's nose is out of joint because Joe is handing out that delightful patronage that John thinks should be his.

I have referred to the "Joe and I" letter so frequently perhaps it is time to reprint it so you can understand any future references that may be made to it. It is a delicious bit of political folly that even the Aylward men regret most sincerely. It is a wonder if it is possible, it may put John into the ash heap of discard before it is done with and it would serve him right. If it does, what becomes of Joe? He would say that he would make Joe the logical candidate for the United States senatorship. In fact, dispatches from Washington announce the Wisconsin delegation at the nation's capital think so, too. Thus you see I am not entirely wrong in my prognostications after all. But before we leave this subject of the senatorship to print Aylward's letter, there are two more candidates for this office, possibly three, who demand recognition, that of Davies, Weiss and Sheboygan Falls. Weiss has been an anti-Davies-Aylward man all his political career when he went to Congress on a free ticket as State Senator Paul Huston of Mayville, a faithful henchman, who votes with the progressive republicans, with the democrats and as a minority leader in the legislature was a power and last but not least there is J. L.

How to Save Your Eyes

Try this Free Prescription.

Do your eyes give you trouble? Do you already wear eyeglasses or spectacles? Thousands of people wear these "windows" who might easily dispense with them. You may be one of these, and it is your duty to save your eyes before it is too late. The eyes are neglected more than any other organ of the entire body. After you finish your day's work you sit down and rest your eyes. Do you rest them? Do you know you do not. You read or do something else that keeps your eyes busy; you work your eyes until you go to bed. That is why so many have strained eyes and finally other eye troubles that threaten partial or total blindness. Eyeglasses are merely crutches; they never cure. This free prescription, which has benefited the eyes of so many, may work equal wonders for you. Use it a short time. Would you like your eye troubles to disappear as by magic? Try this prescription. Go to the nearest wide-awake drug store and get a bottle of Opton tablets; fill a one ounce bottle with warm water, drop in one tablet and allow it to thoroughly dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two to four times daily. Just note how quickly your eyes clear up and how soon the inflammation will disappear. Don't be afraid to use it; it is absolutely harmless. Many who are now blind might have saved their eyes had they started to care for them in time. This is a simple treatment, but marvelously effective in multitudes of cases. Now that you have been warned don't delay a day, but do what you can to save your eyes and you are likely to thank me as long as you live for publishing this prescription. Advertisement.

O'Connor. Who does not know J. L. C. Who has not heard his voice in the Madison halls, who has not watched him toss his hair from his forehead, wave his arms, and flash his black eyes and in a voice that would put the Bull of Balaam to shame yell forth his denunciation in true Patrick style. You all remember J. L. C. who was attorney general under Peck and he made a good one too. Later he removed from Madison to Milwaukee where he now holds forth and he is to side step for Davies a problem, but he is a figure in this fight if he wishes to be. But now that famous "Joe and I" letter. Read it, digest it and then draw your own opinion.

Aylward was glad the letter had been printed. But his friends are not. It follows: "Aylward, Davies & Olbrich, Attorneys and Counselors, Madison, Wis.: Dear Mr. C. We are glad to see your judgment in the matter of the international revenue collectorship of the eastern district. "On a supreme test of strength the Wilson forces are out in this state and in the nation. A general proposition, too, other things being equal, I presume it still holds true to the victors belong the spoils. Yet, Clark-Harmon men are ruled out. Davies is better as a matter of right and justice and party policy ought not to be ignored. We want their strength and influence in Democratic contests. While in the Burke-Konors congressional district Clark-Harmon men are given preference and in the Reilly district they will have their full share of appointments, yet as a matter of fairness and policy as well, I think, it should be conceded that Clark-Harmon men should have a share of the important places in the eastern district.

"This brings me to the actual situation. Tom Fleming is and has been an active candidate for the collectorship at Milwaukee. He is a personal friend of Mr. Bryan and has had his active support to the place. He has the backing of two, if not all of the Democratic congressmen from this state. "As a rule, Mr. Bryan would not interfere in appointments outside of his own state and his own department. On the grounds of personal friendship and the fact that he is urging Mr. Davies to consent to Mr. Fleming's appointment. This so far Joe has refused to do. If, with the backing of the congressmen, he makes an issue of the matter with the president, Fleming will be appointed. If Clark people are, as I believe they are, entitled to one of the good appointments in this district, the question we desire to submit is this: Will you concede them this place, but insist on its going to someone else who is recognized as a Clark man, say Paul Emmey, with the understanding that we will not interfere with the appointments to be made by the president. Unless something of this kind is done, Fleming, through Bryan's influence, will be appointed collector over our objection.

"If Henry Davies named the support of our congressmen would report to him. This would involve the necessity, if one of Clark's people are going to be recognized, of giving them one of the other two important positions. While we would rather concede them either of the other places, the collectorship has been hit upon because that is the place Fleming is candidate for. We will lose unless something as here suggested is done. A serious objection which I see to the plan is that Senator Randolph is a candidate for the place. He is also the fellow who has been in this plan would mean his removal. If this plan meets with approval, the hope would be that he would be taken care of in some other way.

"Of course, the naming of a Clark man to either of the other places would likewise mean disappointment of a number of deserving Wilson favor such a plan and our preference would be Henry. We are in a very fix, decent fellow. When left to himself, is inclined to play the safe game. He is from Dodge, which county is justly entitled to consideration and by reason of his prominence it would be recognized as a deserved appointment.

"While Joe and I believe the foregoing plan should be carried out, we would not go with it unless it has the general approval of our fellows. We will submit it to a number of fellows like yourself, in whose judgment we confide. Give us the benefit of your deliberate judgment in the matter and speak freely.

Very truly,
"JOHN A. AYLWARD."

TIME NOW AT HAND TO REPORT INCOMES

Internal Revenue Collectors Receive Blanks for the Persons With Incomes of $3,000 to Fill Out.
From now on there is going to be all sorts of fun in many quarters when it comes to filling out and filing the income blanks, which the new law has made necessary. The internal revenue collectors have received the official blanks from Washington and they will be distributed within a few days and then begins the problem of how to squeeze the income into the three thousand dollar limit. These blanks will be mailed to persons whose names appear on the state income tax lists from which they have been taken.
Returnable March 1.
The blanks must be filled out and returned before March 1 by every citizen of the United States, whether residing at home or abroad, and by every person in the United States, though not a citizen thereof, having a net income of $3,000 or over for the taxable year. The return must also be made by every non-resident alien deriving income from property owned and business, trade or profession carried on in the United States by him. Any person by reason of sickness he may be unable to fill out the blank or by absence from the United States is unable to make his own return, it may be made for him by his duly authorized representative. When the return is not filed within the required time by reason of sickness or absence of the person from the country, the time may be extended thirty days by the collector.
The penalty for failure to file the return within the time specified by law is $30 to $1,000. In case of refusal or neglect to render the return within the required time, except in case of sickness or absence from the country, 50 per cent shall be added to the amount of tax assessed. In case of fraudulent return, 100 per cent shall be added to the tax, and anyone who makes a false or fraudulent statement with intent to evade or defeat the assessment may be fined not exceeding $2,000 or be imprisoned not exceeding one year, or both.

Terms of the Law.
The instructions declare that the gross income must be stated and general deductions be made on another line of the blanks. There is a space for the net income. Then follow spaces for deductions and exemptions allowed in computing income subject to the normal tax of 1 per cent. Spaces to be filled in provide for the taxable income on which the normal tax of 1 per cent is to be calculated. When the net income exceeds $20,000, the additional tax thereon must be calculated as per schedule that is affixed to the blank. One per cent is demanded on incomes over $20,000 and not exceeding $50,000; 2 per cent on incomes over $50,000 and not exceeding $75,000; 3 per cent on those over $75,000 and not exceeding $100,000; 4 per cent on those over $100,000 and not exceeding $250,000; 5 per cent on those over $250,000 and not exceeding $500,000. Then follows a list of deductions that can be made. These are followed by the advantage of the individual making the return.

Patience.
Have you ever heard of a genius who possessed the patience necessary to teach a dog to turn backward somersaults?

A STARTLING PROPOSITION.

The country was startled, a day or two ago, by the following announcement from Detroit:

"A fund of $10,000,000 has been set aside by the Ford Motor company for distribution among the employees of the concern. It will be given out in the form of increased wages and in many cases will amount to doubling the wages now received by the workers."

"The plan will go into effect immediately for most of the employees.
All men employes over 22 years of age
will receive their first increased pay January 12. The majority of them, now receiving $2.34 a day, will be raised to about $5. This will affect 90 per cent of the men."

"The experts who receive $6 and $7
a day will be taken care of under a special plan and their increase will be proportional to that of the lower paid men. About 300 women and 500 men under 22 years old also will be investigated and a special provision made to include them in the benefit."

Henry Ford, who is the Ford Motor company, was practically a poor man six years ago when he went to a local bank one Saturday afternoon and asked for a small loan to help him out on his payroll.

The old banker turned him down
and advised him to go a little slower.
A few months ago the same banker
went to Ford, and said, "I presume you have a grievance, and it would be useless to ask you for any business." To which the magnate replied: "No! I never have any grievances and tomorrow I will open an account with you."

The next day he sent him a check for two million dollars. The amount so startled the bank officials that a hurried directors' meeting was called to consider whether they could afford to accept it, fearing that it might be demanded on short notice.

A committee called on Mr. Ford and was assured that no demand for money would be made for a year, and then but fifty thousand dollars a month would be called for.

Today the Ford Motor company has so much money that fifty-two banks are used as depositories, and profits are piling up so fast that funds are rapidly accumulating.

No one envies Henry Ford the great success which has made him a multimillionaire in half a dozen years, because he is the kind of a man who merits success.

He has no competition because his car is in a class by itself, and is likely to be for some time to come, but the question of Mr. Ford's philanthropy and the method adopted for the distribution of a part of his great wealth will result in more or less discussion because of its significance.

While Mr. Redfield, the commissioner of labor, endorses it, as he naturally would, and while socialists regard it as an evidence of the growing popularity of socialism, there is another side which presents a very serious aspect.

Mr. Ford has established a precedent for wages that is so impractical and so impossible for the industrial world to adopt, that it will lead to all sorts of unrest and dissatisfaction, if it is not to complete democratization.

The employees of other automobile
works will be the first to complain,
for they will very naturally feel that they are worth as much as men engaged in the same kind of work at the Ford factory.

Other industries will share the same sort of discontent, because a premium of more than one hundred per cent has been added to common labor, and a larger percentage to skilled artisans.

The men that he employs could not go anywhere else and command half the money which he proposes to pay them, because the wage scale is out of all reason and away beyond the reach of the industries.

Mr. Ford, as an individual, has a right to give away his surplus and his income of twenty-five million a year, in any way that he chooses,
but as a cog in the great industrial wheel, the rights of others are entitled to some consideration.

His workmen would have been just as well satisfied, and much better off, in the end, had he put his factory on the profit-sharing basis, and there would have been no cause for complaint.

Had Mr. Ford thought out his unwise policy, to its final conclusion,
his generous impulses would have sought a safer channel, and both the business and industrial world would have been saved embarrassment.

DANGEROUS GOLF BALLS.

During the last few years several cases of severe, permanent injury to the eyes have been reported, caused by the liquid contained in the small rubber core of certain golf balls,
which have been cut open by curious children. Almost invariably the injury is that some child finds an old golf ball with its covering partly off.
He removes the rest of the cover and rubber, and then comes to the core ball, this he bounces until it bursts, or punctures it with a knife. The contained fluid spurts out onto his clothing and into his eyes.

There are apparently two makes of golf balls on the market, each containing a different, highly caustic substance. One contains a mixture of barium sulphate, soap and alkali.
Balls of another make contain a solution of zinc chloride. As a result of these accidents, a bill was introduced in the legislature of Massachusetts to prohibit the sale of golf balls which contained any caustic fluid. The United States Golf Association issued a warning to all persons against the dangerous practice of cutting open golf balls. It was also because of the publicity given this danger that further warning would be superfluous. Within the last few weeks, however, three additional accidents due to the opening of the golf ball cores have occurred near Boston. These accidents are reported in a recent issue of The Journal of the American Medical Association. It seems wise, because of the repeated occurrences of these accidents, again to call the attention of the public to this dangerous practice.

If the four children injured only one escaped permanent injury, while the other three each practically lost
the use of one eye. It can be seen from the cases reported how serious such accidents may be, and how necessary it is that parents and children should be warned against this danger.

WORK WANTED.

Under this caption will be found in the classified columns of the Gazette
a list of worthy persons who actually need work. While there is not as much suffering in Janesville as in many cities, still there are many cases that are most pitiful. On Wednesday the Associated Charities aided one family materially—a classified advertisement was placed in the Gazette and the man of the household was given a position this morning. There is another family, of four, that in-dire straits. The father is too sick to work, two of the daughters who have had employment have been thrown out of work during inventory time and financial aid has been given them by the Associated Charities. In order to aid those who deserve help,
who are seeking work, the Gazette
will run in its advertising columns,
free of all expense to them, an advertisement under the caption, "Work Wanted." If the public will keep watch of this column they may materially aid in the work of assisting the worthy by aiding them to find places.

IN THE BANANA BELT.

Is Janesville to be in the banana belt in the future or is this open winter merely for good measure to make up for the snow, frost and ice that is to come later? There is an old saying that a green Christmas means lots of doctors' bills and perhaps it is true, but just the same it means a great saving in the coal bills in many a household where this is an important item. Of course it does not give the small boy the opportunity to enjoy the customary winter sports
but it does give his older relatives a chance to play golf, to take long tramps through the country and enjoy the glorious out of doors air.
Taking it all in all perhaps it is just as well not to complain about the weather although the smoke goes up the chimney just the same.

Even less than the establishment of a weekly "lovers' night" in his church should have served to make memorable the name of Rev. Zed Hetzel Copp of Cohocksink, Pa.

It will be a poor press agent who can't prove that his is one of the thirty-six immorality plays banned by Washington college girls.

What the nation needs just now,
says Vice President Marshall, is rest.
Is that an intimation that he will give up his lecture tour?

Judge Landis of Chicago has fined a man one cent and no cost. Wasn't he the man who fined the Standard Oil company $25,000,000?

The fact that Colorado has had woman suffrage for many years didn't seem to insure a courteous reception to Mother Jones.

Pass Christian needn't begin to put on airs. Who ever hears of Beverly these days?

OBITUARY

Mrs. Mary Kemp.
Funeral services for Miss Mary Noami Burnham were held from the residence of S. C. Burnham, 803 Hyatt street, this afternoon at two o'clock.
The Rev. Williams officiating. The pallbearers were: W. F. Carl, E.
W. Lowell, Floyd Hurd, Dr. E. E.
Loomis, J. L. Hay and H. F. Bliss.
Interment was at Oak Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Mary Kemp.
Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Kemp were held yesterday afternoon
at one o'clock from the Emerald Grove church, three ministers taking charge of the services. They were Rev. Lutz, Whitewater; Rev. O'Neill, Emerald Grove; and Rev. Miller of this city. The singers were Mes-sieurs Wilkins and Baldwin, and the organist was Miss Chamberlain, all of Fairfield.

The pallbearers were four sons:
Emery, Philo, Henry and Charles
Kemp, and two sons-in-law, Charles Hickwell and William Hale. Floral offerings were many and beautiful.
A large attendance filled the church in the village. Interment was at the Emerald Grove cemetery.

Uncle Tom's Cabin

"Uncle Tom's Cabin." Harriet
Beecher Stowe's immortal story of the South, has been placed upon the motion picture film by KALEM, and the patrons of the Lyric and Majestic will see the two-part photoplay adaptation on Saturday. The story of
"UNCLE TOM'S CABIN" is known too well to be retold here.
Suffice to say that the KALEM production shows the many dramatic situations to splendid advantage. Eliza's flight across the ice; her rescue by George Harris, her husband, and his Quaker friends; the sale of Uncle Tom to Haley, the slave dealer; Uncle Tom's love for little Eva, and the death of the child; the mischievous pranks
Topsy plays upon Aunt Ophelia,
the brutality of Simon Legree,
are all shown with such realism
as to make this adaptation more powerful than any stage production could be. Every man, woman and child in Janesville
should see this wonderful photoplay. It is the one motion picture they cannot afford to miss.

Dinner Stories

Robert Henri, the artist, paused before a landscape at the Philadelphia
Academy of Fine Arts and said:

"Dawb, who painted this, has sprung from humble circumstances to great wealth and eminence."

"Dawb made his first success in Paris. He was diffident and ashamed in those days. When he would sally out into the garret in the Rue Vaugarde to a duchess in the Avenue des Champs Elysees or a princess in the Rue de l'Universite his heart would be in his mouth."

"They say that once at a dinner party at Faidard's Dawb, the guest of honor didn't open his mouth from the marennes verres to the souffles."

"Finally when the dessert came on,
the beautiful and elegant hostess
smiled and said:
"Come, dear Monsieur Dawb, do say something!"

"Dawb blushed at this challenge, racked his brain and stammered, with
a bashful smile:
"Here you noticed, ladies and gentlemen, that this year's pawn tickets are all green?"

Arthur T. Hadley, president of Yale,
said of youth at a tea in New Haven:
"I find youth modest, almost over-modest. I don't agree with the accepted idea of youth that is epitomized
in this anecdote."

According to this anecdote, an old man said to a youth:
"My boy, when I was your age I thought, like you, that I knew it all,
but now I have reached the conclusion that I know nothing."

"The youth, lighting a cigaret, answered carelessly:
"Hm! I reached that conclusion about your years ago."

She had just finished reading "The Land Without a Country," and as she laid it down she sighed and said:
"I can't imagine anything worse than a man without a country."

"I can," replied her friend.
"Why, what is that?"
"A country without a man."

Goodbye Dandruff

Parisian Sage Stops Falling Hair
and Itching Scalp; Removes Dandruff With One Application.

If your hair is too thin, make it grow. If it is too dry and brittle, soften it up—lubricate it. If you have dandruff it is because the scalp is too dry and flakes off. Freshen up the scalp and dandruff will go.

Parisian Sage, always sold by Smith Drug Co. in 50 cent bottles, is just what you need to make your scalp healthy and immediately remove dandruff—your hair wavy, lustrous and abundant.

You cannot be disappointed in Parisian Sage. It quickly stops itching head; cleanses the hair of dust and excessive oil; takes away the dryness and brittleness, makes it seem twice as abundant and beautifies it until it is soft and lustrous.

"LOVE'S SUNSET"

By Vitagraph

As the production of moving picture dramas progresses, more and more interesting and really dramatic life-portrayals are being shown on the screen. A brilliant illustration of what may be accomplished is seen in "Love's Sunset," which the Lyric and Majestic will feature on Sunday.

The story of the drama centers
around the married life of a beautiful young woman who at one time was a cabaret dancer. Her past life is not known to her husband who believes that she has always been exemplary in her conduct. A chi-max is reached when the other man returns home from Europe after an absence of three years and without knowing who his friend has married calls upon him and there comes face to face with his former sweetheart.
She is thrown out of the house,
even though she pleads for mercy,
being the mother of a dear little boy. But her husband will not hear her plea. She goes away and wanders through the country, losing her mind. She returns to the villa a long time afterwards, only to find in the arms of her forgiving husband.

plays a return engagement at the Lyric Theater, Tuesday, January 13,
with the same company that presented it here on the first visit.
The play should fare even better on a return date than it did originally.
It is one of those rare plays that is so brilliantly conceived and written that its performance is actually better than anything the advance notices might attempt to say for it.
The play has earned the unanimous praise of all those who have seen it and no better venturing can be afforded any show on the American stage today. The excellent cast engaged for "Within the Law" won a solid hit here in its first appearance, and is in keeping with the standard of excellence of the productions of the American Play company, the pro-

HOUSE 10 TO 20 PER CENT

There have been received by various local people recently, letters from a Chicago mail order house in which a misleading statement is made in that an offer is said to be made to one prominent citizen in each locality
for the purchase of raincoats at supposedly startlingly low figures. The prominent citizens are many because hundreds of letters were received.
The prices are now low, because every merchant in Janesville handling the goods offered, will guarantee to sell and do sell them regularly at 10 to 20 per cent less than the prices offered by the mail order house.

Most Beautiful Silks:

How far away are we
from the days of stiff heavy silks—when a silk dress to be fashionable had to creak and groan at every move and stand out from the figure most rigidly. The woman of today demands that her silks be soft and clinging—and fall in rich, graceful folds. It's a happy tendency and has resulted in our gathering together from home
and abroad the most exquisite assortment of wonderfully woven and rarely tinted silks that has ever been displayed in Janesville. You will have a new gown for the

that you will not find so wide a range for your selection elsewhere.

ANOTHER HUMAN DOCUMENT.

I AM SURE no one who has difficulty in keeping expenses down can fail to be interested in the following letter. Anyone who has never had such trouble will please read some other part of the paper. But somehow I don't feel I shall lose many readers by that injunction.

Ten years ago, writes my letter friend, "I was a young girl of 18 helping my father farm it. He was a poor man with eleven children and my two grandparents to take care of. I was next to the oldest. I met a young farmer who was also real poor and 32 years old, and we were engaged and not a dollar between us. I had just 15 cents and he borrowed one dollar from a neighbor and we came to live there two years. I had a married sister living. We took up board there and he got a job at 13 cents an hour. We boarded there for four weeks and then we were married. We had a little wedding even, costing about $6.00. We had cake, and then we went to housekeeping next morning. We borrowed $10 and paid down on $100 for furniture and got a stove at $1 down and $1 a week. We paid $6 rent a month and I received 6 plates and 6 cups and saucers and a pair of pillows for wedding presents.

"I had five dollars out of my husband's wages with which I went to a 5 and 10 cent store and bought me the necessary tins and dishes and knives and forks. We were very happy. After a year or so, of course, a baby came, and we had a chance to buy a house at $10 down and $10 a month, so we bought the house and lived there two years, when another baby came. Then we had a chance to sell the house, getting $200 more than we paid, so we thought ourselves rich as we had over $300 in the bank and everything we needed in a laborer's house.

"We wanted to try farming on our own hook, so we spent this money on horses and tools, etc., and ran in debt for nearly $500. At the end of three years' farming we had nothing but our household goods and four babies. So we came back to town to live. Now I am a young woman of 28 and have four children, the oldest 8 and the youngest 3 and am sending two to school. We have bought a house again and are keeping up payments, taxes and repairs. We are getting $12 a week now. We have always enough to eat and are happy, never having one cross word between us. Now why can't people who want to marry get along as we did at first. If you will kindly publish part of this letter I shall be glad to see it as every word is true."

THE SUNDAY SUPPER.

The Sunday supper is usually the most informal meal of the week, and if a guest arrives he is given a part to perform in the preparation of the meal. The most delightful part of it all to men, especially, is being allowed to make something, and the men and women worth while are those who are learning how to do things. It may be the most appreciated accomplishment that a man possesses, if he may add to the comfort of somebody some time by being able to prepare a cup of cocoa or coffee, a piece of toast or cook a steak.

One hot dish for Sunday night is considered sufficient. The chafing dish is very popular, or if one has an electric plate or appliances, the meal may be made especially delightful. The nice thing about a chafing dish—if one has the fuel, it is just as easy to use it out on the plains as in a model city apartment.

A plain salad with sandwiches, a bit of fruit, either fresh or preserved, with some kind of cake, will make a good meal, even for company.

Beef With Savory Sauce.—Cut cold boiled or roast beef in thin slices. Heat together one tablespoonful of butter, two of tomato catsup and a cup of thickened gravy. The gravy or sauce may be made of stock, if not at hand. Season well and lay in the meat to be heated through.

Egg and Cheese.—In a saucepan or chafing dish put a tablespoonful of butter and a half cupful of milk; add a quarter of a teaspoonful of dry mustard to a half pound of finely cut cheese, a dash of salt and a half teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce. Heat slowly until the cheese melts, then add six well beaten eggs, and stir until thick. Just before serving add two tablespoonfuls of orange juice. Serve hot. A creamed dish making a rich white sauce and adding any kind of diced meat from chicken to cold roast pork, makes a good hot dish to serve with or on toast.

Deviled Meat.—Rub together one tablespoonful of softened butter, a quarter of a teaspoonful of dry mustard, a dash of cayenne and a half teaspoonful of salt, then add gradually one-half teaspoonful each of Worcestershire and vinegar. Cut underdone slices of roast and dip in this mixture, then sauté in a little butter until well heated.

Queen of Bavaria.

Here is a new photograph of the new Queen of Bavaria, wife of King Ludwig III, who in November declared himself King of Bavaria, "by grace of God," and deposed the mad King Otto. The latter had been the title King of Bavaria for twenty-seven years without knowing the significance of it.

GIRLS! LOTS OF BEAUTIFUL, GLOSSY HAIR! NO MORE DANDRUFF—25 CENT DANDERINE.

Hair coming out? If dry, thin or faded here's an inexpensive, delightful tonic—Grows hair.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be new hair, fine and downy at first, but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Household Hints

THINGS WORTH KNOWING.

By first scalding the milk and setting it aside to cool, a baked or boiled custard will be perfectly smooth. A quick way to mend undergarments that are becoming worn is to stitch with the sewing machine back and forth in parallel lines, then turn the goods and run stitches at right angles to those already taken.

If you are asked to do paper work, a few paper patterns is a good selection for an offering. To whiten the hands, put a few drops of lemon juice into the white of an egg. If lemons are not at hand, a little alum water will answer; rub this mixture on the hands at night, letting it dry on.

THE TABLE.

Reception Cocoa.—Three tablespoonfuls of cocoa, one-quarter cup of sugar, a few grains of salt, two cupfuls of milk. Scald the milk, add the cocoa sugar and salt, adding enough boiling water to make a smooth paste; add the remaining water and boil one minute; pour into a tureen. Beat five minutes. New England Brown Bread.—One and one-half cups of stale bread, three and one-quarter cups of cold water, three-quarters cup of molasses, one and one-half teaspoonfuls of salt, one-half cup each of rye meal, granulated corn meal, Graham flour, and three teaspoonfuls of soda. Soak the bread in two cups of the water over night; in the morning rub through a colander, add the molasses, dry ingredients, salt and sifted, and the remaining water. Stir until well mixed, fill buttered one-pound baking powder boxes two-thirds full, cover and steam two hours.

Cereal With Fruit.—Three-quarters cup of wheat germ, two cups of boiling water, one teaspoonful of salt, one-half pound of dates, stoned and cut in pieces. Boil the cereal in cold water; add to boiling water placed on the front of the range. Boil five minutes; steam in double boiler thirty minutes; stir in the fruit and serve with cream. To serve for breakfast or as a simple dessert.

Scrambled Eggs With Tomato Sauce.

Six eggs, one and three-quarters cup of tomatoes, two teaspoonfuls of sugar, four tablespoonfuls of butter, one slice of onion, salt of butter, one slice of onion, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one-third teaspoonful of pepper. Simmer the tomatoes and sugar five minutes; remove the onion and add the tomatoes, seasonings and eggs slightly beaten. Cook until of creamy consistency, stirring and scraping from the bottom of the pan. Serve with entire wheat bread or brown bread toast.

Croquette Soup.—One quart of brown soup stock, one pint of tomatoes, three tablespoonfuls of oil, chopped green peppers, two tablespoonfuls of chopped onion, one-quarter cup of butter, one-third cup of flour, salt, pepper, cayenne, two tablespoonfuls of grated horseradish, one teaspoonful of vinegar, one-quarter cup of macaroni rings. Cook the pepper and onion in butter for five minutes. Add the flour, stock and tomatoes, and simmer fifteen minutes. Strain, rub through a sieve and season highly with salt, pepper and cayenne. Just before serving add the horseradish, vinegar and macaroni, previously cooked and cut in rings.

Croquettes.—Cut stale bread in one-third inch slices and remove crusts. Spread thinly with butter. Cut the slices in one-third inch cubes, put in a bowl and bake until delicately brown, or fry in deep fat.

Pan-Fritters.—Wash the parsley and cook forty-five minutes in boiling salted water. Drain, plunge into cold water, when skins will be found to slip off easily. Mash, season with butter, salt and pepper, shape in small flat round cakes, roll in flour and sauté in butter.

Cream Dressing.—One-half tablespoonful of salt, one-half tablespoonful of mustard, three-quarters tablespoonful of sugar, one egg slightly beaten, pieces of any one-half tablespoonful of melted butter, three-quarters cup of cream, one-quarter cup of vinegar. Mix the ingredients in the order given, adding the vinegar very slowly. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly until the mixture thickens, strain and cool.

Every Day Talks for Every Day People

BY FRANCES JOYCE KENNEDY.

There is a big difference between the alert independent, little child who is the fortunate possessor of an income of its own, and the child with no income and small likelihood of ever having one.

The child with an income knows his possibilities, his limitations; if he desires something that is outside his weekly sum, a while of saving, of the sugar will cause the coveted article to become his. And the denying and planning he has gone through has helped to give him an idea of the value of a dollar.

The child with an income is a child of importance, and independence. This is as it should be, for how many of us want our boys and girls to grow up to be independent? In very conflict? This may sound like a very hard life for us grown-ups is a conflict that is for the most of us.

A knowledge of one's power is necessary, and the child that is given money occasionally is never quite so sure of their power, as is the one that has a stated sum to use, and is taught the proper usage of the same.

The lack of money in childhood is not readily supplied in later life, for in childhood the mind is plastic, also the character, and the child readily forms habits, and receives impressions. They should be taught to estimate the wise expenditure of money and the judicious use of the same. Keep a child without ready money in childhood and they are in danger of extravagance in the use of it when grown, or because they have had no practice in this line, or they may be inclined to miserliness, from fear of using their money, precious gold. Give a child money in childhood and he will reflect, plan, before spending it. They learn to spend wisely, and to make a penny purchase a penny's worth in trade.

Again: The child without money of his own will generally spend a penny as soon as he gets it, for the very first thing he sees, and when grown is totally unversed in the uses and abuses of the same. Now this is

BEVERAGES.

The custom of drinking to the health, happiness and prosperity of our friends is so old that it is hard to tell when and where the idea originated. An old German superstition is that it is bad luck to drink to anyone's health with water. Neither the Germans nor anyone else, for that matter, needed to be told to drink to the health of their friends with punch.

The one criticism on most of such drinks is they are usually made too sweet, they are very quench thirst and children are often made ill by drinking too much. Fruits like the banana or peach should always be combined with lemon, lime, or other fruits having acid juices. When fresh fruits are not abundant or seasonable, bottled grape, pineapple, lime and lemon juice, ginger ale, canned pineapple cherries and other fruits are excellent to be had the year round.

The foundation for all punches should be made by first boiling sugar and water in the proportion of one pound of sugar to one quart of water for ten minutes. This syrup may be made in large quantities and kept bottled ready for use at a moment's notice. Cold tea is a good foundation with the syrup for punches and has been used for years by the English, combined with champagne and a slight mixture of the light flavoured wines. A few cloves or stick of cinnamon add flavor and raisins stewed and cooled are often necessary.

Punch.—Orange pekoe or English breakfast tea, two tablespoonfuls; lemons, six; oranges, two; sliced pineapple, one pint; sugar, three cups; raisins, one cup; ginger ale or wine, one pint; bananas, two. Water, three quarts.

Directions.—Put the tea into a sauce pan and cover with a quart of boiling water. Cover the pan for ten minutes (off the fire) and strain. Grate the yellow rinds from half the lemons and oranges, adding this to the sugar and mix with the tea infusion. Stir until the sugar is dissolved, place over the fire and boil five minutes. Cool and add the juice of lemons, oranges and all the other fruits, including the raisins, which have only been cooked until they "plump." Turn into a punch bowl with a block of ice, when cold serve in punch glasses. In all fruit punches choice of fruits may be used, but properly combined with the acid fruits.

Country Punch.—Tart apples, six; lemons, three; stick cinnamon, one-fourth; sugar, four cups; raisins, one cup; bay leaves, two; oranges, one.

Directions.—Wash, quarter and core the apples; put them into a sauce pan with raisins, bay leaves and cinnamon. Add two quarts of water and bring to the boiling point. Add two more quarts of water in which sugar and grated rind of lemons and oranges have been dissolved. Simmer slowly thirty minutes, strain, cool and add juice of lemons and oranges. Stand aside until cold. Put a little shaved ice in sherbet cups and fill with the cold fruit juice. This is a fine punch for children.

Dancing Party Punch.—Use limes or the bottled lime juice instead of lemons and serve very cold. This is most satisfying and quenches the thirst as none of the sweeter fruits can do. Make the same as any lemonade, boiling sugar and water, directed for all punches, being careful not to serve it too sweet. Turn into a punch bowl with fresh stalks of mint.

Heart and Home Problems

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) I have a lot of little white pimples on my face. I really don't know if they are pimples, but a friend of mine told me they were.

(2) I am awfully dark under my eyes. I look so sickly, although I am feeling well.

(3) I have the catarrh. Do you think that has anything to do with the complexion?

(4) When you put cold cream on the face and rub it off right away or can you leave it on overnight?

DISCOURAGED. (1) The green soap treatment might rid you of these pimples, but if you will take enough exercise, a daily bath, eat the right food and drink plenty of pure water, that will be the surest cure. Get the green soap at this drug store. With the soap at the face, let stay on a few minutes, then wash off with hot water. Use this daily unless the soap irritates the skin, in which case use only every second day. Apply only cold cream to soothe. Open each pimple with a sterilized needle, and gently press out, then apply peroxide to the spot.

(2) Outdoor exercise, plenty of sleep and good food ought to rid you of the dark circles.

(3) Catarrh will cause pimples and make one look ill. Better take a doctor's treatment. Sleep with your bedroom windows wide open.

(4) Always wipe it off thoroughly after the massage.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl of thirteen and go to school. (1) I have a boy friend that used to sit by me and one day he turned around and talked to a boy and teacher or put him back again to his own seat. My girl friend sits there and is only ten years old. She is very fond of boys. How can I get the teacher to sit him back by me again? (2) What is good for sunburn? (3) How can I whiten the skin? I have a very dark complexion.

(4) What is good for the hair? My hair comes out by bunches and is very thin. SCHOOL GIRL.

(1) If the boy wants to sit near you again he can manage it by being good and minding the teacher and getting his lessons. Then if he asks the teacher she will probably let him have the seat near you. But it wouldn't do for you to try to get him back to sit near you. Let him be a "bad" and let him work it out himself. And if your girl friend can win him, you don't want him, do you? You want the kind of boy friend who cares for you no matter what other girls do.

(2) Bathe the skin with buttermilk and let the milk stay on overnight.

(3) Buttermilk will whiten the skin, but if your skin is naturally dark you can't make it white.

(4) Use a fine comb once a week and brush the hair thoroughly every day. Keep brushes and combs very clean. Rub a little bit of vaseline into the scalp every day or two. Let the hair hang down as much as possible. Don't wear "rats" and false hair and don't tie your hair up tight.

Dear Mrs. Thompson—I am a boy of sixteen. (1) Am I too young to go with a girl of fourteen? (2) What would be a nice birthday present for a girl friend? (3) Is it wrong for me to kiss a girl good night?

BRUCE. (1) You are too young to be a beau, my boy, but I don't see why you should not have girl friends. (2) Box of candy, book, a pretty picture, a diary. (3) Yes, because kissing a girl is apt to make her think you care more for her than you really do, so it is a wrong to the girl, don't you think?

MASTER CARPENTERS MEET HERE FRIDAY

JANESVILLE CONTRACTORS WILL BE HOSTS AT SECOND STATE CONVENTION.

ENTERTAINMENT PLANS

Include an Automobile Trip Through the City, Theatre Party and Banquet.

Delegates from a dozen Wisconsin cities will be in Janesville tomorrow and Saturday for the second annual convention of the State Master Carpenters' Association, the sessions of which will be held at Eagles' hall, corner of Main and Milwaukee streets. Local contractors are arranging an elaborate program of entertainment which will include an automobile ride through the city following the meeting Friday. John Cullen, A. M. Mead and E. E. Van Pool are the members in charge of this feature and announce that they will need fifteen cars to transport the visitors. Persons who can donate their car and a driver for an hour on this occasion are requested to report to one of the committee men.

Following the automobile ride the delegates will be entertained at the matinee performance at Apollo Theatre and at six-thirty o'clock a banquet will be served at the Myers Hotel. The local reception committee is composed as follows: W. R. Hayes, chairman; P. J. Van Pool, William Ford and Ernest Waters. The members of the entertainment committee are E. Pautz, Lars Frederickson and John Boos.

The officers of the state association elected last year in Milwaukee are as follows: J. V. Frederickson, Madison, president; H. Walschlaeger, Milwaukee, first vice president; P. J. Van Pool, Janesville, second vice president; C. H. Ulbricht, Milwaukee, secretary; H. G. Zickert, Watertown, treasurer; and M. G. Winter, H. G. Kelling, W. J. Buscher, all of Milwaukee, directors.

The program for the meetings which close Saturday morning, is announced as follows:

First Day.
Meeting called to order at 1:30 p. m. by J. V. Frederickson, state president, of Madison.
Regular routine of business.
At 2:30 p. m. the convention will adjourn to be entertained by the local Builders' Association. Subject: "The Value of Cooperation."
Music—Male Quartet.
Adjournment.

Second Day.
Meeting called to order at 9:00 a. m.
Resume of routine business.
Admission of new members into state organization.
Recs and smoker.
Election of officers.
Selection of the place for holding the next annual convention.
Adjournment.

Headquarters: Builders' Exchange Rooms, corner Milwaukee and Main streets.

Money Saved by Making Your Cough Syrup at Home

Takes But a Few Moments, and Stops a Hard Cough
in a Hurry.

Cough medicines, as a rule, contain a large quantity of plain syrup. If you take one pint of granulated sugar, add 1/2 pint of warm water and stir about 2 minutes, you have as good syrup as money could buy.

If you will then put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (fifty cents) worth in a pint bottle, and fill it up with the Sugar Syrup, you will have as much cough syrup as you could buy ready made for $2.50. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours. It keeps perfectly.

You will find it one of the best cough syrups you ever used—even in whooping cough. You can't feel it take hold—usually conquers an ordinary cough in 24 hours. It is just as good enough has a good tonic effect, and the taste is pleasant.

It is a splendid remedy, too, for whooping cough, spasmodic croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in guaiacol and other healing pine elements. No other preparation will work in this formula.

This plan for making cough remedy with Pinex and Sugar Syrup is now used in more homes than any other cough remedy. The plan has often been imitated but never successfully.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

BROADWAY JONES

FROM THE PLAY OF
GEORGE M. COHAN

EDWARD MARSHALL
WITH PHOTOGRAPHS FROM SCENES IN THE PLAY

CHAPTER I.

Back of the massed red-brick and clapboard buildings forming in Jonesville, Conn., the extensive group devoted to the manufacture of Jones' Popsin Gum, was the abandoned power house, wherein were housed the water wheels which once had furnished force to drive the factory's machinery. The stream's diminishing flow, the increased needs of the business, and the economy of steam all had militated toward industrial abandonment of the old building.

Small boys never fished there, for the sluice-waters were too swift, loafers never idled there, for the watchmen of the mills were too strict in their guardianship, but lovers sometimes wandered there, of moonlight nights, and in the afternoons, when the academy sessions had ended, "Broadway," really named Jackson Jones, but nicknamed "Broadway" because of his continual glorification of New York's great thoroughfare, which he had seen upon occasion, sometimes went there "to get away from Jonesville." This afternoon he was to teach two Jonesville girl friends new dance steps which he had learned in New York city. Later, dancing these with him at the Odd Fellows hall, they would confound all other girls in Jonesville.

The girls came promptly. Clara Spotswood was the daughter of the local judge, Josie Richards the daughter of a recent manager of the gum factory. Her father was now laid up with rheumatism, and Josie was in training for a bookkeeper's post in the great enterprise, which swallowed most of Jonesville's youth of either sex, as soon as they left school.

"Now this step, girls," Broadway said in preface, "was invented on Broadway, for use upon Broadway, by Broadway people. Don't mistake it for a quiet nap. It's not a sleep-dance. It was not dreamed out in Jonesville."

"And was everybody dancing it?" asked Josie.

"Every girl I saw," he answered. He had been telling of a ball he had attended in New York, but not quite all he might have told about it. "Every one I saw, but one."

"And was she dancing old style?"

"No; she was being carried to an ambulance. She had just sprained an ankle."

"Oh, Jackson, you're too funny!" "Thanks for those kind words," He watched them whirl together for a moment. "No; not quite that way, Clara. Don't give a Broadway step a Jonesville twist; you want to give a Jonesville step a Broadway polish."

Breathless they stepped their efforts. "Oh, you and your Broadway! You're always talking about Broadway!"

"Clara," said Jackson very seriously, "have you ever seen Broadway?"

"You know I haven't."

"Well, if you had, you'd never see another place you thought worth seeing."

"Oh, you and your Broadway!" Josie Richards was an extremely pretty girl, more serious than Clara, who was fluffy. "No wonder the boys all call you 'Broadway!'"

"I suppose a minister is proud when people call him 'doctor,'" was the answer. "When people call me 'Broadway,' I feel about like that."

"I'd rather folks would call me Andrew-Jackson," remarked Sammy.

"Andrew-Jackson was a statesman—not a street."

"Your—er—little brother," began Broadway, but, not being eloquent by nature, he left the sentence incomplete.

"He thinks he'll be a Caesar. He wants to kill some boys by strategy, for he's too fat to fight."

The girls laughed again. Now they had begun the pleasant homeward walk along the high road to the border of the village.

members of your family, all—in both of which you seem to be most singularly lacking; and, while it has fewer people than New York, it has more virtues. You will be the only Jones remaining after I have gone. I am far from well. I—"

Instantly the young man was contrite. He had no wish to hurt his uncle's feelings.

"I'm sorry, sir, if you are feeling ill," he said, respectfully, "but, you see, you've always lived in Jonesville—a great drain on a man's vitality. I didn't mean to say a word to bother you."

But the old man was not to be pacified; his face continued stern. "It is less your words than what seems to be your disposition which annoys me," he burst forth. "Is there nothing serious in you?"

"I guess I'm pretty young to settle down. Perhaps that's what's the matter."

"I had settled down and had complete charge of the bookkeeping department of this great enterprise before I was eighteen. You might begin to take life seriously."

"You can't take it any other way in Jonesville."

"I feel that I should tell you various details of the business, for my days here may be numbered."

The youth looked appreciatively around the dull old library, feeling in the earnestness of his revolt, that if his own days in Jonesville were but numbered it would give him great relief. Even death, he thought.

"I'm sorry you're not well, sir."

"We are but shadows cast upon the stream of life. Mere shadows, Jackson."

Jackson gazed at him with careful eyes; that his mouth was also carefully entirely proven by the fact that it said nothing. A careless month might have remarked that this old uncle was a pretty solid shadow, for he weighed close upon two hundred pounds.

"Your father," said this very robust invalid, "had some tendencies which I now see in you—exaggerated in you."

Jackson. He, too, was frivolous; he, too, longed for the flesh-pots of New York.

"I never did, sir," he said, gravely. "I wish I might feel sure of that."

said Abner Jones. "I should feel surer of the safety of the gum."

"I shall never harm the gum, sir."

"You must not only never harm it; you must help it. Let me tell you, Jackson, there is a trust in the gum business."

"Yes, sir, I've heard of it."

It would have been remarkable if he had not. For two years, the air of Jonesville had been full of rumors of the gum trust. The whole town was fearful that the great Jones factory might be sold to a stranger.

"After I am gone they will endeavor to secure your factory and business," Abner Jones went on. "I shall never let them have it. You must never let them have it. Of your wife in the Jones gum."

"It's surely been a handsome little money-maker," Broadway granted.

"I do not like your language," said his uncle, "but the meaning of your words is accurate enough. It has made money. It still continues to make money—as an independent gum. It—"

Broadway was getting edgier. The Spotswoods were waiting supper for him. Mrs. Spotswood was a plump and cheerful housewife, who doted on the recipes he brought back from New York upon the rare occasions when his uncle let him go there.

"It would make more, uncle, wouldn't it, if it lost its independence?" he inquired.

WITHIN THE LAW

By MARVIN DANA
FROM THE PLAY OF
BAYARD VEILLER

Copyright, 1914, by the M. D. P. Company.

"So long, young fellow," he exclaimed and held out his hand. "You've been on the square, and I guess you always will be."

Dick had no scruple in clasping that extended hand very warmly in his own.

"We'll do what we can for you," he said simply.

"That's all right," Garson replied, with such carelessness of manner as he could contrive. Then at last he turned to Mary. This parting must be bitter, and he braced himself with all the vigors of his will to combat the weakness that leaped from his soul.

As he came near the girl could hold herself in least no longer. She threw herself on his breast. Her arms wreathed about his neck. Great sobs racked her.

"Oh, Joe, Joe!" The gasping cry was of utter despair.

Garson's trembling hand patted the girl's shoulder very softly, a caress of infinite tenderness.

"That's all right," he murmured huskily. "That's all right, Mary." There was a short silence, and then he went on speaking more firmly. "You know, he'll look after you."

He looked up over the girl's shoulder and beckoned with his head to Dick, who came forward.

"Take good care of her, won't you?" He disengaged himself gently from the girl's embrace and set her within the arms of her husband, where she rested quietly, as if unable to fight longer against fate's decree.

"Well, so long!"

He dared not utter another word, but turned blindly, and went, stammering.

"That's all right. That's all right, Mary."

"That's all right. That's all right, Mary."

"To the gallery," Burke ordered curtly.

Garson went on without ever a glance back.

There was a long silence in the room after Garson's passing. It was broken at last by the inspector, who got up from his chair and advanced toward the husband and wife. In his hand he carried a sheet of paper, roughly scrawled. As he stopped before the two and cleared his throat, Mary withdrew herself from Dick's arms and regarded the official with brooding eyes from out her white face.

Burke extended the sheet of paper to the husband.

"There's a document," he said gruffly. "It's a letter from one Helen Morris, in which she sets forth the interesting fact that she pulled off a theft in the Emporium, for which your Mrs. Glider here did time. You know, your father got your Mrs. Glider sent up for three years for that same job—which she didn't do. That's why she had such a grudge against your father and against the law too."

Burke chuckled, as the young man took the paper, wondering.

"I don't know that I blame her much for that grudge, when all's said and done. You give that document to your father. It sets her right. He's a just man according to his lights, your father. He'll do all he can to make things right for her, now he knows. Now, you two listen: I've got to go out a minute. When I get back, I don't want to find anybody here—not anybody! Do you get me?"

When the official was gone, the two stood staring mutely each at the other through long seconds. What she read in the man's eyes set the woman's heart to beating with a new delight. What he read in her eyes set the husband's pulses to bounding. He opened his arms in an appeal that was a command. Mary went forward slowly, without hesitation, in a bliss that forgot every sorrow for that blessed moment, and cast herself on his breast.

THE END.

"Our Auction Sale Was So Well Attended

that it would not be falsifying to say that there was a crush there. The bidding was fast and furious! I say this to tell you that I think if Fred had not advertised, we'd not have done one-half so well," said a country woman who had but just moved to town to her neighbor the other day.

"When we sold out and rented our farm, we did not have such a crowd" said the woman spoken to. "John has since admitted that had he advertised his sale in the want ad columns the attendance would have been much larger."

There you are! If you have anything to say to the public, use the want ad page as a mouthpiece. It travels far! And quietly, but effectively it does the work. Its price is not prohibitive! Try it!

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE OF HEARING.
STATE OF WISCONSIN.
County Court for Rock County.
Notice is hereby given that at a Regular Term of the County Court to be held in and for said County at the Court House in the City of Janesville, in said County, on the first Tuesday before the 3rd day of February, 1914 at 9 o'clock, a. m., the following matter will be heard and considered:
The application of Bertha Gower for the appointment of an Administrator of the estate of Forest B. Gower late of the City of Janesville, deceased, and for the determination of the heirs and next of kin of said decedent.
Dated January 7th, 1914.
By the Court.
OSCAR N. NELSON, Register in Probate.
W. H. Dougherty, Attorney for Petitioner.

SHERIFF'S SALE.
By virtue of an execution, issued out of and under the seal of the Circuit Court in and for the county of Rock and state of Wisconsin, upon a judgment rendered in a Justice court before Stanley D. Tallman, a Justice of the Peace of the county of Rock and transcribed to said Circuit court and docketed in said Circuit court on the first day of December, 1913, in an action wherein Otto Schoenrock is plaintiff and George Brandt is defendant, in favor of the said plaintiff, and against the said defendant, for the sum of fifty-eight dollars and ninety-seven cents ($58.97) damages and costs, which execution was directed and delivered to me as sheriff in and for said county of Rock, I have levied upon all the right, title and interest of the said defendant George Brandt in and to the following described real estate:
Lot number nine (9) - Block number one (1) in Highland Park Addition to the city of Janesville according to the record plat therefor.
Notice is hereby given, that I, the undersigned, as sheriff aforesaid, will sell the above described real property to the highest bidder for cash, at public auction, at the west front door of the Court House at the city of Janesville, in the county of Rock and state of Wisconsin, on the 21st day of January, A. D. 1914 at ten o'clock A. M. Items of news may be left at the Baker Drug Store, and will receive the same prompt attention as if they were sent direct to the office.

FORTY YEARS AGO

The Janesville Daily Gazette, Jan. 8, 1874.—Dan McNeer was committed yesterday afternoon by Justice Smith to await his trial at the circuit court on charge of entering a shop with intent to commit larceny.
James Smith, champion walker of the United States, will walk at Young America Hall, on Monday next. Mr. Smith walked at Racine recently one hundred miles in twenty-two hours and thirty minutes.
Charles Keldinger, a former youthful resident of Janesville, has been placed in charge of the telegraph office at Hudson.

Mitchell's hall was last night the scene of a pleasant gathering of ladies and gentlemen, assembled to do honor to the managers of the "ladies reception" who took this occasion to gather together in social reunion that element of Janesville society which is most distinguished for its appreciation of a good time. The hall was completely filled, and the quintette band kept the guests in dancing humor throughout the evening. The refreshments served were in keeping with the other excellent appointments of the affair.

One hundred and thirty-eight years ago today, Thomas Paine published his "Common Sense" favoring independence of the American Colonies—January 8, 1776.

--and the Worst is Yet to Come

Superlatives in Advertising.
Japanese advertisers believe in a lavish use of superlatives. "The paper we sell," runs the announcement in a Tokyo stationer's window, "is as solid as the hide of an elephant." "Step inside!" is the invocation of a big multiple shop in the same city. "You will be welcomed as fondly as a ray of sunshine after a rainy day. Our assistants are as amiable as a father seeking a husband for a dowry less daughter. Goods are dispatched to customers' homes with the rapidity of a shot from the cannon's mouth."

Postage Stamps.
The postage stamp first made its appearance in 1839. Its inventor was James Chalmers, a printer of Dundee, who died in 1853. England adopted the adhesive stamp in 1840, and issued the first stamps for the use of the public in 1840. A year later stamps were introduced into the United States and Switzerland, and soon afterward made their appearance in France, Belgium and Bavaria.

The True and the False.
True love is that which enables the personality to fortify the heart and sanctifies the existence. And the being we love must not be mysterious and sphinxlike, but clear and limpid, as a diamond, so that admiration and attachment may grow with knowledge. —Amiel's Journal.
